

Dear GMAH clients and friends,

You may have heard about the recent article published by USA Today about the Seresto collar causing harm and, in some cases, fatalities, to pets. We want to inform our clients that we were not aware previously of any of these instances. In our collective experience, we have actually seen fewer adverse events with this product compared to some of the Hartz products mentioned in the article.

We are closely monitoring this situation and are waiting for updates from the experts in the Veterinary field for further information on how the reported data was gathered. If you are currently using the Seresto collar and have concerns about the safety or efficacy, you may remove the collar and use an alternative flea and tick product.

We will stay closely informed as information comes out and will pass along any new updates to clients. We welcome you to reach out to us with any further questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Green Mountain Animal Hospital
